e. Informational Items

- i. Project Payment Listing – Engineering
There were no comments or questions on the listing.

f. Other Items

- i. City Engineer Buck announced that asphalt-paving work on Cumberland Avenue started on Friday. In preparation for the opening of that roadway, the Engineering page on the City website has more information on roundabouts. Mr. Buck distributed a handout about this specific roundabout, and explained that a video clip will also be available on the website. The opening of the road will probably be on a Sunday in the next two or three weeks.

- ii. Street Superintendent Downey reported that his department picked up brush last week, from the storm the weekend before. In a normal week, the department will pick up about 25 tons of brush in approximately 96 hours; last week the total was 223 tons in 588.5 hours, about $14,000 in labor. In a normal month, the fee to Soilmaker is $1,200; an additional $2,000 will be added to the July fee, as the brush was above the contract volume. However, the avoided tip fee, since everything was composted and recycled, was $8,023. He distributed photos of some of the damage.

Mayor Dennis expressed appreciation for the Street Department crews and their efforts at the storm cleanup. They did not just pick up the big pieces of brush, but they cleaned up the fallen leaves and debris, working early and late to get the job done.

Mr. Downey announced that there is a broken catch basin in the middle of the intersection of State Street and Andrew Place. The street will probably be closed for about eight hours tomorrow, so that the repair can be made.

- iii. Wastewater Utility Director Henderson encouraged people to watch “Drop by Drop,” a documentary about water quality and wastewater issues, which will be shown on WFYI, a PBS station, this month. The schedule is on the WFYI website, wfyi.org.

- iv. Councilor Burch announced that the Pre-Council meeting would be held at 4:30 p.m. on Thursday, July 29, in the City Hall Lower Level Conference Room.
